7 Nixon Ex-Aides Indicted

By FRANK VAN RIPER and JAMES WIEGHART

Washington, March 1 (News Bureau)—In one of the biggest political scandals in the nation's history, a federal grand jury indicted today six of President Nixon's top aides and the lawyer for his reelection committee on charges of perjury, obstruction of justice and conspiracy to cover up the 1972 break-in and bugging of Democratic National Headquarters at the Watergate Building.

Nixon's name was mentioned only in passing in the 50-page, 13-count indictment, but although he was not referred to specifically in any of the 45 "overt acts" alleged in the conspiracy, two of those acts occurred at White House meetings at which Nixon apparently was present.

More ominously for Nixon, grand jury foreman Vladimir Pregelj, a government worker from Washington, also turned over to Federal District Judge John J. Sirica a "sealed report" and a locked and bulging briefcase crammed with grand jury evidence, part of which reportedly related to Nixon's alleged involvement in the coverup.

Sirica accepted the secret report and evidence, but did not say whether he would keep it or turn it over to the House Judiciary Committee for use in its impeachment inquiry.

Named in today's indictment were:

- John N. Mitchell, 60, of New York, former attorney general; charged with conspiracy, obstruction of justice, perjury before the Senate Watergate committee, lying to the FBI, and two counts of lying before the grand jury.
- Harry R. (Bob) Haldeman, 47, of Los Angeles, former White House chief of staff; conspiracy, obstruction of justice and three counts of perjury.
- John D. Ehrlichman, 48, of Seattle, formerly Nixon's principal adviser on domestic affairs; conspiracy, obstruction of justice, lying to the FBI, and two counts of lying to the grand jury.
- Charles W. (Chuck) Colson, 42, of McLean, Va., former White House special counsel; conspiracy.
- Robert C. Mardian, 50, of Phoenix, Ariz., former assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's Internal Security Division; conspiracy.
- Gordon Strachan (pronounced "strawn"), 30, of Salt Lake City, former top aide to Haldeman at the White House; conspiracy, obstruction of justice, and lying to the grand jury.

● Kenneth Wells Parkinson, 46, of Washington, former counsel to the Committee for the Reelection of the President; conspiracy.

The defendants are to be arraigned in Sirica's court next Saturday, a time deliberately chosen to enable Mitchell, who is on trial in New York, to be present.

More Indictments Due

A source close to the investigation told The News that more indictments will be returned next Wednesday by the second Watergate federal grand jury, which is investigating illegal campaign contributions; political espionage, including the special White House investigative unit called "the plumbers"; and the out-of-court settlement of the billion-dollar antitrust suit against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

This source said that new indictments, charging conspiracy in connection with the 1971 burglary of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, would name Ehrlichman, David C. Young, former National Security Council aide who was director of the plumbers, and two already convicted Watergate conspirators, G. Gordon Liddy and E. Howard Hunt Jr. Ehrlichman and Young already are facing charges, stemming from the Ellsworth break-in, before a California state court.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski opened this morning's brief court proceeding by announcing that the grand jury "has an indictment to return (and) also has a sealed envelope to deliver to your honor."

Report Is Locked Away

When the stern-faced Sirica was handed the manila envelope, he opened it, read the first page, and wordlessly resealed it. The judge later locked the sealed grand jury report and the briefcase in a safe in his chambers. An aide said he did not expect the judge, who is going out of town for a few days, to either read the report thoroughly or issue any orders about it and the accompanying evidence "until sometime next week."

However, Sirica did not release the original Watergate grand jury, which has been impaneled 22 months, but told the jurors to be prepared to return in two weeks. The judge did not explain why, but sources said Jaworski wants to give some of the minor figures in the coverup an opportunity to plead guilty and cooperate as government witnesses before going to the grand jury for more indictments.

Jaworski asked that the case be especially assigned, meaning out of the regular rotation of judges, and Sirica, who is chief judge of the United States District Court here, assigned it to himself.

There also was speculation that the grand jury, in its sealed report, was seeking Sirica's guidance as to whether it had the power to compel Nixon's testimony or even possibly indict him. The President disclosed Monday that he had refused a request from the grand jury that he voluntarily appear and testify under oath.

Jurors Admonished

Before adjourning, Sirica admonished the grand jurors that they were bound by strict secrecy provisions from disclosing anything about their deliberations. He also issued a stern warning to the prosecutors, defendants, defense attorneys and any witnesses scheduled to testify at the upcoming trials not to make any out-of-court statements that could create prejudicial pre-trial publicity.

Jaworksi estimated that the coverup trial would last from "three to four months."

Today's indictment contained little that had not already been covered during the nationally televised Senate Watergate committee hearings or in previous court proceedings involving 30 persons already charged in connection with the Watergate case. Besides the seven convicted Watergate conspirators, 17 persons have pleaded guilty and eight are awaiting trial. Among those who have pleaded guilty are Jeb Stuart Magruder, John W. Dean 3d, Fred C. LaRue, Herbert L. Porter, Egil (Bud) Krogh Jr., and Herbert W. Kalmbach, all former White House aides or close Nixon associates.

Spells Out Contention

But today's indictment spelled out in broad brush strokes the government's contention that the conspirators sought to cover up high level White House and reelection committee involvement in Watergate by destroying evidence, attempting to involve the Central Intelligence Agency as a shield and a source of "hush" money, soliciting false statements and distributing more than $400,000 in "hush money" to buy the silence of the original Watergate seven.

The catch-all conspracy count charged that the seven defendants along with "other persons . . . known and unknown" conspired "for the purpose of concealing . . . the identities of the persons who were responsible for" the Watergate break-in and coverup. The indictment said the conspiracy began on the day of the break-in and continued "up to and including the date of . . . this indictment."

From the President's point of view, the most damaging statement in the indictment was the grand jury's charge that Haldeman lied when he told the Senate Watergate committee last July 30 that Nixon had remarked "it would be wrong" to raise $1 million for hush money payments.

Haldeman told the Senate committee that he had listened to the secret White House tape recording of a March 21, 1973, meeting between Nixon and Dean. Dean had earlier told the committee that when he told Nixon it would take $1 million to buy the silence of the Watergate burglars, the President had replied that "it wouldn't be any problem" to raise that much money.

Say Haldeman Lied

When asked about this, Haldeman quoted the President as telling Dean, "There is no problem in raising a million dollars, we can do that, but it would be wrong."

But, said the grand jury, Haldeman lied on this point. The clear implication was that the White House tape for the March 21, 1973, meeting supported Dean's version of this conversation, not Haldeman's.

Mitchell's was the first indictment to become known. His lawyer, William Hundley, told reporters at the Vesco trial in New York at 10:30 a.m.—half an hour before the indictments were made public in Washington—that a federal court representative had told him moments before that the former attorney general had been named. "He is innocent and he will be vindicated by the courts," Hundley said.

Colson—I Followed Orders

By TIMOTHY S. ROBINSON

WASHINGTON (WP) — President Nixon ordered then-White House aides Charles W. Colson and H. R. Haldeman in 1971 to do "whatever has to be done . . . whatever the cost" to stop leaks of classified government information, Colson has said in a sworn affidavit.

Nixon issued the orders just a few weeks after publication of the top-secret Pentagon Papers, and about a month before other White House aides actually organized the special investigations unit known as the "plumbers" to stop the leaks, according to the affidavit filed yesterday.

Colson also said he had been told by former White House aide John Ehrlichman that Nixon told a high Justice Dept. official in April, 1973, that he approved the "Ellsberg operation" after consultation with former FBI director J. Edgar Hoover.

The Colson affidavit does not explain further what was meant by the term "Ellsberg operation." The President has acknowledged setting up the plumbers unit but has said that he did not authorize it to commit any illegal acts.

Colson, Haldeman and Ehrlichman—who left the White House in 1973—are among six persons indicted on civil rights conspiracy charges here as a result of break-in by members of the plumbers unit at the office of Dr. Lewis Fielding, psychiatrist for Pentagon Papers codefendant Daniel Ellsberg.

Colson said in the affidavit that one meeting between himself, Haldeman and the President concerning the leaks was in late June, 1971, and took this form:

"On that occasion, the President, speaking to Mr. Haldeman and to me, said in effect: 'I don't give a damn how it is done, do whatever has to be done to stop these leaks and prevent further unauthorized disclosures; I don't want to be told why it can't be done.

" 'This government cannot survive, it cannot function if anyone can run out and leak whatever documents he wants to . . . I want to know who is behind this and I want the most complete investigation that can be conducted.'

"The President went on: 'I want to know how and why the counter-government' is at work. If we do not stop them, if we do not find out who is involved and why, we will endanger everything that this government is trying to do in the most sensitive foreign policy and national security areas. I don't want excuses, I want results. I want it done, whatever the cost."

Eye Haldeman in Secret $ $ Probe

By Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein
Staff, The Washington Post

WASHINGTON (WP) —Before pleading guilty to campaign finance law violations, Herbert W. Kalmbach gave the Watergate prosecutors an accounting of about $8 million in secret contributions and expenditures of two secret funds for the political campaigns of 1970 and 1972, according to informed sources.

The sources also say he is ready to testify that former White House Chief of Staff H. R. Haldeman organized the 1970 fund drive which totaled $4 million.

Kalmbach himself collected about $2.8 million of that total, the sources said.

Among the previously unreported contributions in the $8 million total is $125,000 in secret cash gifts made in 1970 by two government officials and an airline executive.

The $125,000 in cash included $50,000 contributed by Fred J. Russell, then the Undersecretary of the Interior and later the Ambassador to Denmark, another $50,000 from Vincent de Roulet, then the Ambassador to Jamaica, and $25,000 from Dudley Swim, the late chairman of the board of National Airlines.

All this money went into a secret fund of nearly $2 million held by Kalmbach—much of it in untraceable cash—which was used during the 1972 Nixon reelection campaign to finance undercover political work, including the campaign sabotage carried out by lawyer Donald Segretti and the investigations of politicians' private lives conducted by former New York policeman Anthony T. Ulasewicz.

Kalmbach, President Nixon's personal lawyer, has given special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski the first full accounting of all receipts and expenditures of the secret fund, according to informed sources.

Jaworski is investigating this money and all other cash contributions to the 1972 Nixon campaign, the sources said, because many of them are believed by the prosecutors to involve illegal contributions made in exchange for Ambassadorships or other government favors.

(In his press conference last night, Nixon denied that diplomatic appointments had been made in exchange for contributions. "Ambassadorships cannot be purchased," he said, "and I would not approve an Ambassadorship unless the man or woman was qualified clearly apart from any contributions."]

Kalmbach yesterday pleaded guilty to violating the old Corrupt Campaign Practices Law in the handling of the separate $4 million secret campaign fund for use by Republican Congressional candidates during the 1970 elections.

Kalmbach also admitted promising a European Ambassadorship to Maryland Republican J. Fife Symington Jr. in return for a $100,000 contribution by Symington — $50,000 for the secret fund for the 1972 Presidential campaign and another $50,000 for the $4 million 1970 Congressional campaign fund.

In accepting yesterday's guilty plea from Kalmbach, the Watergate prosecutors made clear that they considered collecting of the $4 million without making required disclosures reports to be a felony.

Haldeman is under investigation for his role in organizing the $4 million fund drive, the sources said. One source with firsthand knowledge said: "Haldeman organized the fund-raising drive, and money was collected from about 100 people and it went to the candidates that Haldeman designated."

Those designated were favored Republican House and Senate candidates, including Sen. Weicker (R-Conn.), who as a member of the Senate Watergate committee has become one of the President's most outspoken critics. Weicker received about $65,000 at Haldeman's direction, the sources said.

The decision to collect as as much cash as possible for the 1970 Congressional and 1972 Nixon reelection campaign was also Haldeman's the source said. One source quoted Kalmbach as saying: "Haldeman said, 'Take it in cash—whenever you can get cash, get it.'"

In numerous campaign fund-raising drives coordinated by the White House in which Kalmbach was involved from 1969-1972, he criss-crossed the country dozens of times and collected about $50,000 in expense money from the $2 million secret fund.

Kalmbach, 52, a tall man with a gentle manner, met Haldeman in the early 1960s and was introduced to Nixon in 1964 by Robert H. Finch, who would later become Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare in the first Nixon Administration.

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, April 26—A third cash fund controlled by H. R. Haldeman when he was White House Chief of Staff—consisting of a two-inch-thick stack of $20 and $100 bills—has come to light in testimony released today in a Watergate civil suit.

Mr. Haldeman's former assistant, Lawrence M. Higby, said the money had been kept in a safe in Mr. Haldeman's office and used to pay moving expenses for White House staff members. He did not say whether the money was used for other purposes.

Mr. Higby's testimony was in pretrial depositions taken Dec. 11 and 17 as evidence in the Democratic party's damage suit filed after the burglary of its headquarters at the Watergate office complex on June 17, 1972.

Mr. Higby did not specify the size of the cash fund other than to indicate its bulk.

Kalmbach Said to Be Conduit

A separate cash fund of $350,000 was set up on April 6, 1972, and kept in Alexandria, Va., according to testimony by Mr. Haldeman an another of his aides, Gordon C. Strachan, before the Senate Watergate committee. This money, they said, came from Herbert W. Kalmbach, a former counsel for Mr. Nixon, and was said to have been left over from the 1968 Presidential campaign.

Some of that $350,000 fund was said to have been used to buy the silence of defendants at the first Watergate burglary trial.

Mr. Higby's deposition was unsealed today by Judge Charles R. Richey, of the United States District Court here. Mr. Higby was questioned at the time of the deposition by Maurice R. Dunie, a lawyer for the Democrats; and Charles A. McNellis, representing the former Democratic national chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien.

Mr. Higby said he knew personally of only two times when the third cash fund was used. This was to pay "I would guess $1,000 or $1,500" in moving expenses for Harry Dent and William Gavin, two former White House aides, he said.

"The purpose of giving the money was to cover moving expenses related to the White House," he said.

Another fund—$100,000 in cash—was kept in a safe-deposit box at the Security Pacific National Bank in Newport Beach, Calif.

This money came from the Associated Milk Producers Inc., in August, 1969, and there were "withdrawals from the box and later additions to the box," Mr. Kalmbach testified.

Mr. Kalmbach said the fund had been expressly controlled by Mr. Haldeman "or others who stood clearly in his shoes." His statement was made in a deposition last Dec. 13 as part of Ralph Nader's civil suit over the Nixon Administration's increase in milk price support which was allegedly tied to campaign pledges from dairy cooperatives.

Not ' a Large Amount'

"It wasn't a fund that wa replenished," Mr. Higby assert ed. "I think it was something that was given to him [Mr. Haldeman] in late '68 after the election and he put it there and drew upon it upon occasion."

He continued, "It wasn't a large amount. I mean it wa an envelope like that," and h pointed to a two-inch-thick en velope.

"In thousand-dolar bills o one-dollar bills?" Mr. Dur asked.

"The Times I saw it, I thi it was hundreds and twentie Mr. Higby said.

He said he and others at th White House had received simi lar moving expense "gifts."

"Do you know when Mr. Haldeman received this money?" Mr. McNelis asked.

"I believe he received it while they were still in New York," Mr. Higby said.

"That would have been in 1968?"

"Yes sir," Mr. Higby said.

Mr. Higby also contended that before Mr. Haldeman resigned on April 30 of last year, the former chief of staff "considered going on television and answering all the charges that had been made against him . . ."

After a two-hour session with Mr. Higby and John D. Ehrlichman, a former counselor to the President, Mr. Haldeman dropped the thought because, in Mr. Higby's words, "it would raise the issue to a higher profile and therefore hurt the President."

AKA'S: BOB AND ROBERT HALDEMAN
SECURITY CLEARANCE INVESTIGATIONS PROGRAM
SPECIAL PROGRAMS - MORTON H. HALPERIN,
ET AL. VS. HENRY A. KISSINGER, ET AL.

HARRY ROBBINS HALDEMAN was the subject of a background investigation covering a fifteen-year scope to determine his trustworthiness and eligibility for receipt of a "Top Secret" security clearance and access to Sensitive Compartmented Information by the DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE (DOJ). HALDEMAN has a need for access to national security information in his current assignment. This investigation was based upon submission of Standard-Form 86, "Security Investigation Data for Sensitive Position," which was completed by HALDEMAN on June 15, 1987. HALDEMAN is a self-employed consultant. HALDEMAN was the subject of two favorable applicant-type investigations conducted by the FBI in 1965 and 1969.

Copies of the 1965 investigation, two letters and one memorandum concerning the 1969 investigation, and a copy of FBI Identification Division Record Number 304 609 L6, were furnished to your office by the Executive Agencies Unit, FBI HEADQUARTERS (FBIHQ), on August 4, 1987. This investigation is being updated from 1969.

HALDEMAN's birth on October 27, 1926, at Los Angeles, California, was verified through FEDERAL RECORDS CENTER (FRC), Civilian Personnel Records, St. Louis, Missouri.

HALDEMAN's residences since October, 1973, were verified and favorable. Neighbors contacted who knew the candidate, commented favorably. One neighbor, [redacted] b6 b7C advised that he has only met the candidate on one occasion, therefore concerning his moral character he responded "I could only refer you back to the Watergate Scandal."

Harry Robbins Haldeman

On August 11, 1987, [redacted] b6 b7C advised that he has resided at that residence for nine months, but has actually owned it since 1972 (obtained residence approximately nine months ago, following a divorce settlement). The candidate has resided at 4621 Via Bendita about one and a half to two years. He has met him on one occasion when candidate came over to complain about [redacted]

When asked if [redacted] felt he could comment on candidate's moral character, he responded "I could only refer you back to the Watergate Scandal." [redacted] does not know what the candidate does in terms of employment, but stated that he read an article in the "News Press," which said the candidate worked for some firm in Los Angeles. [redacted] could provide no additional information.

Candidate's employments since January, 1969, were verified and favorable. His employment from January, 1969, to April, 1973, with the OFFICE OF PRESIDENT RICHARD NIXON was verified through FRC, Civilian Branch, St. Louis, Missouri. His self-employment and unemployment periods were verified through interviews of references, personal associate, and other associates. One former neighbor, [redacted] advised she could confirm a period of idleness or unemployment, possibly when the candidate was writing a book, but could not recall the exact year or date. Other former co-workers at MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT commented favorably.

On August 18, 1987, [redacted], Personnel Assistant, Personnel Office, Office of Administration, was b6 b7C interviewed by the Washington Field Office and advised as follows:

Her office services personnel records which include the Executive Office of the President. No personnel records are maintained in her office beyond a five year period, therefore, her office would have no record identifiable with HALDEMAN. Any personnel record identifiable with HALDEMAN would have been forwarded to a subsequent Federal agency or the FRC, in St. Louis, Missouri, following HALDEMAN's assignment at the WHITE HOUSE.

b6 b7C

Harry Robbins Haldeman

On August 14, 1987, a review of records at the FRC, Civilian Personnel Records, St. Louis, Missouri, disclosed that HARRY R. HALDEMAN, Social Security Account Number (SSAN): 549-32-6817, was employed on November 16, 1968, as a member with the PRESIDENT ELECT TRANSITION, New York, New York. This employment terminated on January 20, 1969, by resignation, reason not shown.

He was employed on January 21, 1969, as an Assistant to the President with the Executive Office of the President, THE WHITE HOUSE, Washington, D. C. This employment was terminated on May 19, 1973, by resignation, reason not shown.

The folder did not contain any efficiency ratings or unfavorable information.

No security clearance was shown.

On August 11, and September 10, 1987, [redacted] b6 b7C listed reference of the candidate, was interviewed by the Los Angeles Office, at [redacted] and advised as follows:

He has known the candidate approximately 40 years. They met while they were college students. Over the years he and the candidate have been involved both socially and in business. Currently they share a financial interest in FAMILY STEAK HOUSES OF MIAMI. He confirmed the candidate's unemployment period of January, 1979, through June, 1979, as this was the period of time after the candidate was released from prison and before his first job with MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT COMPANY.

He confirmed the candidate's self-employment period as an author and consultant from May, 1973, through June, 1977. These dates seemed to be accurate as to the candidate's authorship of his book. HALDEMAN has maintained business contacts and acted as a consultant for many years.

In all of his dealings with him, he has known him to be honest, trustworthy, and a loyal United States citizen who would not compromise those loyalties.

The candidate uses neither drugs nor alcohol and all of his associates are persons of good character and reputation.

He recommended him.

b6 b7C

Harry Robbins Haldeman

On August 11, 1987, [redacted] FAMILY STEAK HOUSES OF MIAMI, [redacted] was contacted regarding the candidate and advised as follows: b6 b7C

He has known the candidate since approximately 1977. He confirmed that the candidate does consulting work for the company and is on the Board of Directors of FAMILY STEAK HOUSES OF MIAMI.

Since 1977 the candidate has been a consultant for their restaurant chain in the area of site selection, arranging for financial proposals of borrowing money, projecting cost, and analyzing the business affairs of FAMILY STEAK HOUSES OF MIAMI. The consulting work has varied over the years and the candidate has always performed well in guiding the company with its whole operation. HALDEMAN is a brilliant individual who has an uncanny business acumen.

[redacted] has never known him to use drugs or drink alcohol. The candidate is honest, trustworthy, and a "nice guy." b6 b7C

He has personal knowledge that the candidate has a substantial networth as he has prepared financial statements for the candidate in regard to his business. The candidate should have no financial difficulties as he is certainly not overly leveraged to the extent that he could be compromised.

He feels the candidate is extremely loyal to the United States, and has nothing but the finest of associates. [redacted] highly recommended the candidate. b6 b7C

On August 12, 1987, [redacted] listed reference and former co-worker of the candidate, was interviewed by the Los Angeles Office, at MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, 10900 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, and advised as follows:

The candidate held a senior vice-president position at MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, which deals in real estate investments on a national level, from July, 1979, through January, 1986.

He has the greatest respect for the candidate in terms of his leadership, ability, and business acumen. HALDEMAN is a well organized person who could track projects thoroughly. When HALDEMAN left, he believed it was a personal choice. He is eligible for re-hire. The candidate is currently self-employed as a consultant. MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT would be glad to have him back as he was always informed and highly competent, and always handled himself to perfection.

[redacted] b6 b7C

He has always found the candidate to be honest, trustworthy, and a person who did not use illegal drugs nor use alcohol at all. The candidate is a financially bound individual who is both loyal to the United States and uncompromising in his moral character.

He recommended the candidate, as in his opinion, the candidate would never compromise national security and would always maintain the highest judgment in that regard.

[redacted] WEDGEWOOD INVESTMENTS, 6733 South Sepulveda Boulevard, Suite 320, Los Angeles, California, was interviewed regarding the candidate and advised as follows: b6 b7C

He originally worked with the candidate at MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT COMPANY for approximately three years. Since that time he has become involved with the candidate in real estate deals at WEDGEWOOD INVESTMENTS. The candidate does act as a consultant in real estate dealings with WEDGEWOOD INVESTMENTS in that he is on the Board of Directors at WEDGEWOOD. The nature of his consulting is in the area of overall operations.

In his words, his relation with the candidate is a perfect marriage of his youth and enthusiasm coupled with the candidate's age and experience in the business world. Specifically, the candidate reviews proposals and helps to put together financial packages for the business or whatever other overseeing needs to be done in the general operations of the business. The candidate has been in this position for over two years and he has found him to be very trustworthy, honest, and reliable.

He has never known the candidate to either use illegal drugs or to drink alcohol at all. He could not think of a more honest, loyal, or patriotic person. To his knowledge the candidate is financially responsible and he highly recommended him as he could not think of anything at all to prevent a recommendation.

On August 17, 1987, [redacted] listed reference, was interviewed at his place of business, ADVANCED EXCAVATION COMPANY, Route 50, East, Queenstown, Maryland, and advised as follows: b6 b7C

He has known HALDEMAN well since 1979, but was acquainted with him years ago. In 1979, candidate was hired by MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT, Los Angeles, California, as an Executive Vice President where he was in charge of franchise operations.

He later was designated President of the hotel division. [redacted] traveled throughout the world with candidate and came to know him quite well. They have maintained a close professional and social relationship since 1979. [redacted] and HALDEMAN are currently business partners in several real estate deals. His association is "Post Watergate" and his comments regarding HALDEMAN are specifically related to the period of HALDEMAN's release from prison in 1978. Candidate is a competent and capable administrator who has a great talent in identifying problems, developing a solution, and implementing a plan for resolution of the problem. HALDEMAN handles himself well in meetings with individuals of varied backgrounds. b6 b7C [redacted] knows candidate to be of the highest caliber as to his character and reputation. He is honest, reliable, and trustworthy.

HALDEMAN demonstrated his competence in the areas of real estate development and management while at MURDOCK DEVELOPMENT. A number of people questioned his credentials initially, but HALDEMAN proved himself. HALDEMAN dealt with numerous state Government officials, including governors, as well as the presidents of many companies. Everyone had the highest regard for candidate's ability, demeanor and professional knowledge. [redacted] reiterated that HALDEMAN is unbelievably organized and perceptive. He is not aware of any derogatory information concerning HALDEMAN, particularly with regard to his use of illegal drugs or the consumption of alcohol to excess. Candidate possesses high morals and his loyalty to the United States is above question. b6 b7C

He convinced HALDEMAN and his wife to be featured speakers at the annual meeting of the Young President's League in Venice, Italy, in 1984. The HALDEMANs were highly regarded and impressed everyone with their genuine personality, ability to communicate, and personal demeanor. He is personally gratified with his association with candidate in that HALDEMAN has a sense of direction to his life since released from prison. HALDEMAN was at a low point after prison, but has rebounded magnificently. He would highly recommend candidate for a security clearance.

On August 12, 1987, [redacted] listed associate of the candidate, was interviewed at 10792 Bronco Circle, Santa Ana, California, and advised as follows:

Harry Robbins Haldeman

He is a marketing executive with the LOS ANGELES TIMES MIRROR CABLE DIVISION in Irvine, California. He has known the candidate since 1966 as a social acquaintance. In all of his dealings with the candidate he has never seen him consume alcohol or use any illegal drugs. The candidate is totally trustworthy and a loyal American citizen who would not compromise that loyalty. All of the candidate's associates are of good character. He does not associate with many people, but those he does associate with are fine upstanding individuals.

Financially the candidate has never seemed to have any problems. Though he does not know of the candidate's personal finances, he did not believe he could ever be compromised because of financial difficulty.

Regarding the period between January, 1979, through June, 1979, he confirmed HALDEMAN was unemployed for at least that long as he had just been released from prison. In his estimation the candidate would go way out of his way not to compromise the United States. He recommended him for a security clearance based upon the fact that when HALDEMAN wrote his book, he seemed to have bent over backwards not to comment on points of national security and seemed to have made a point to better the interest of the United States.

All listed references and associates recommended HALDEMAN for a security clearance for access to national security information.

HALDEMAN has a current credit rating of "Satisfactory."

Appropriate law enforcement agency records were checked and they contained no information identifiable with HALDEMAN or his listed relatives except the following:

Candidate, on his application, listed in 1973 he was charged with "conspiracy, obstruction of justice, and perjury, in the U.S. DISTRICT COURT, Washington, D. C." He was convicted and served 18 months of a eight year sentence in Federal Prison from June, 1977, to December, 1978. He was released from parole on January 6, 1981.

On August 14, 1987, review of records, UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT, 3rd and Constitution Avenue, Northwest, Washington, D. C., disclosed the following concerning one HARRY ROBBINS HALDEMAN, Criminal Docket Number 74-110:

b6

Harry Robbins Haldeman

On March 1, 1974, HALDEMAN was charged with Conspiracy, False Statements to a Government Agency, Obstruction of Justice, Perjury, and False Declarations. On February 27, 1975, HALDEMAN was sentenced to a term of not less than 30 months, but not more than eight years confinement. On October 4, 1977, HALDEMAN's sentence was reduced to a period of confinement not less than one year, and not to exceed four years.

On August 17, 1987, a review of records, DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION, Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Government of the District of Columbia, disclosed no record concerning the candidate.

On August 6, 1987, a review of records, MOTOR VEHICLE ADMINISTRATION, State of Maryland, disclosed no record of candidate having a valid Maryland driver's license. Furthermore, candidate does not have a driving record in Maryland.

On August 19, 1987, a review of records, DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES for the State of California, disclosed that HALDEMAN, date of birth October 27, 1926, was issued a renewal license on October 23, 1984, with an expiration date on October 27, 1988. Candidate was issued a citation on January 15, 1985, in violation of the basic speed law of the State of California. He paid a fine as disposition on February 1, 1985. He has never failed to appear or had any accidents.

b7E

A search of the records of the FBI, including the central files of the FBIHQ, the records of the Identification Division, the files of appropriate field offices, as well as appropriate computer data bases were checked and contained no pertinent information identifiable with the candidate or his listed relatives except the following:

b6

Harry Robbins Haldeman

A review of Identification Division records, FBIHQ, disclosed FBI Number 304 609 L6 for one HARRY ROBBINS HALDEMAN, date and place of birth: October 27, 1926, Los Angeles, California; SSAN: 549-32-6817, which contained information regarding HALDEMAN's charges in 1974 as mentioned on page 7 and 8 of this memorandum.

HARRY ROBBINS HALDEMAN was the subject of two favorable applicant-type investigations by the FBI. One in 1965, entitled "HARRY ROBBINS HALDEMAN; CA 29269, AKA's: BOB and ROBERT HALDEMAN, Atomic Energy Act - A," and the other in 1969 entitled "HARRY ROBBINS HALDEMAN, Special Inquiry."

As previously mentioned summaries of these investigations and a copy of the FBI Identification record was furnished to your office per memorandum, dated August 4, 1987.

The New York Office furnished an article from the Daily News, WASHINGTON NEWS BUREAU, dated March 2, 1974, entitled "7 NIXON Ex-Aides Indicted."

The article stated that a federal grand jury indicted six of President NIXON's top aides and the lawyer for his re-election committee on charges of perjury, obstruction of justice, and conspiracy to cover up the 1972 break-in and bugging of Democratic National Headquarters at the WATERGATE BUILDING.

One of the individuals listed as being indicted was HARRY R. (BOB) HALDEMAN, 47, of Los Angeles, former WHITE HOUSE, Chief of Staff. He was charged with conspiracy, obstruction of justice, and three counts of perjury.

In telephone conversations with DOJ, Security Office, on August 6, September 4 and 22, 1987, they were advised that no fingerprints were submitted with the candidate's application. They advised that HALDEMAN would not be fingerprinted and the FBI should conduct the necessary checks.

Therefore, a search of the Identification Division records was conducted on HALDEMAN by name only and the results were reported above.

Haldeman to Head Nixon's Vote Drive

Former Vice President Nixon Thursday announced the appointment of H. R. Haldeman as manager of his 1962 gubernatorial campaign.

Haldeman, who lives in Pacific Palisades with his wife and four children, is taking a one-year leave of absence from his post as manager of the Los Angeles office of the J. Walter Thompson Co. to handle the campaign.

He is a member of the UCLA Alumni Assn. board of directors, the Los Angeles Better Business Bureau membership committee and the continuance fund committee of the Los Angeles Symphony Assn.

Haldeman served on the former Vice President's personal campaign staff in an advance capacity in 1956, 1958 and 1960.

Wyman displayed reproductions of the new pamphlet, containing a series of Brown photos, one of them depicting the governor applauding and grinning while he is quoted as saying on March 3, 1961, "I want this organization (CDC) to flourish and grow."

He also produced what he said was the original photo, showing the governor, on the State Senate rostrum, applauding a little girl who is a polio victim, as she walked with leg braces and crutches.

Wyman said Chotiner told the state Young Republican directors in Bakersfield on Sept. 24, while holding a proof of the pamphlet, that 1 million copies were to be distributed. Wyman called the pamphlet a "fraud" and said Brown is on record as disagreeing with CDC on certain positions, such as admission of Red China to the U.N., and abolishment of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

In connection with the Prussion booklet, Wyman gave out pictures showing the governor with a 20-year-old Leotian minstrel girl "greeting his guest in the same respectful manner that she greeted him—a custom observed in the homeland of this American ally."

While the Prussion booklet quotes Brown as telling Khrushchev in San Francisco, "We who admire you, we who respect you, welcome you to California." Wyman distributed another document stating what Brown actually said was:

"I think you'll find in California good people, people that respect you, and people that are happy that you've visited this country."

Asks Repudiation

"I find this butchery of news pictures just as shocking as the 11th hour smears against Nixon opponents in California in 1946 and 1950," stated Wyman.

"I'm asking Mr. Nixon to repudiate Pat Brown and the CDC."

Nixon already has repudiated the Prussion book, which the Democrats say they bought in GOP headquarters in Beverly Hills. Wyman said that unless the materials are withdrawn "it will be clear that a desperate Nixon—trailing badly in the public opinion polls—has put the smear brush in Murray Chotiner's hand and told him to let fly."

Haldeman's statement said "it is significant" neither Wyman nor Brown denies the statements attributed to CDC and the governor in the new pamphlet.

Further, declared Haldeman, neither denies Brown failed to act when the CDC adopted its controversial resolutions and "in fact did not repudiate any of them until recently when he was in the midst of a re-election campaign."

"Neither one denies that Mr. Brown as governor brushed off a voter when an inquiry was made about Brown's stand with the CDC," Haldeman went on.

Prussion Book

"Instead they seek to weasel out of their uncomfortable position by complaining about pictures. The truth is, they are pictures of Gov. Brown and were used only as illustrative of the actual statements made by him.

"If Mr. Brown and his hatchetman, Mr. Wyman, have any complaint, let them fight it out with the CDC."

He declared Wyman and Brown know the Nixon campaign had "absolutely nothing" to do with the Prussion book, that it was repudiated immediately and ordered removed by GOP County Chairman Judd Leetham; Prussion has invited legal action against him, and Brown knows what to do.

Chotiner said, "About the only thing that is accurate in Mr. Wyman's frantic efforts in this campaign is his statement that 'this will be the dirtiest campaign in California.' He is determined to carry out his prediction by holding a series of press conferences where he hurls wild and reckless distortions of the truth."

$1,440,000 War Chest for Nixon Claimed

Democrats offered what they termed "documented proof" Monday that Republican Richard Nixon has a $1.44 million gubernatorial campaign budget.

That's a "scandalous" amount, said Mrs. Elizabeth Gatov, Democratic national committeewoman and co-chairman of Gov. Brown's re-election campaign committee.

She said it constitutes a "ruthless attempt to buy the governorship."

But H. R. Haldeman, Nixon's campaign manager, termed the claim a "deliberate distortion of simple facts." 1-27-3

He said Democrats ignored "the simple truth" and that the Nixon campaign is "is not costing $1,440,000 or anything near it.

"That figure was mentioned many, many months ago as a campaign budget goal for fund raising purposes," he said.

"We are spending only a fraction of that as the voters will see when we file our statement of campaign expenses with the secretary of state."

Brown Spending

Haldeman said the statements "will show that Mr. Brown's spending is double that of our campaign. The sworn statements on the primary campaign expenditures revealed that the Brown campaign outspent us then even when Mr. Brown had no real opposition."

She distributed copies of a July 27 memorandum to Nixon from Maurice Stans, his finance chairman and a former budget bureau director in the Eisenhower administration.

This document laid down a $1,440,000 budget for the statewide Nixon campaign, of which the Los Angeles county quota was $650,000.

"Funds raised by the Nixon organization outside of Los Angeles and outside of California (are) to be related in no way against its $650,000 requirement in Los Angeles county," the document reads.

Mrs. Gatov also distributed copies of a "memorandum of understanding" purportedly reached by Nixon representatives, the United Republican Finance committee and the GOP county central committee.

This, too, spelled out the details of Nixon's fund-raising activities particularly as they related to similar efforts by URFC.

Mrs. Gatov quoted Republican county chairman J. A. (Jud) Leetham as saying last week that the Nixon finance organization refused to honor an earlier agreement regarding distribution of campaign contributions received from the Oct. 8 $100-a-plate GOP dinner at the Hollywood Palladium.

Anti-Democrat Mailing Assailed as 'Cowardly'

FRI NOV 2 [illegible]

Nixon Organization Disclaims Connection With Unidentifiable Campaign Literature

Democratic leaders Thursday scored as "cowardly and anonymous" a campaign mailing designed to persuade Democrats to vote for Republicans.

And a spokesman for Richard Nixon, Republican candidate for governor, said the Nixon organization had nothing to do with it.

The unsigned, unidentifiable yellow-colored letter was headed "Democrats for California" and called on "fellow Democrats" to vote Republican because Democrats are backed by the California Democratic Council and "no sincere patriotic American can conscientiously support such candidates."

Enclosed was a piece of campaign literature prepared by the Democrats for Nixon, with headquarters at 3908 Wilshire Blvd.

H. R. (Haldeman), Nixon's campaign manager, said, "I know absolutely nothing about it, I haven't seen it and I know we had nothing to do with it."

He said he didn't know how the official Nixon literature got in the envelope and said he didn't know of any large orders for the literature, such as might be required in a large-scale mailing.

The envelopes carried no identification other than that they were mailed in Los Angeles and each carried a 3-cent stamp.

Enclosed was a typewritten sheet containing attacks on the CDC.

"Remember, all California Democrat candidates are committed to these stands adopted by their CDC," the sheet read, after listing a series of policy stands purportedly taken by the volunteer party group.

Many Democratic nominees, including Gov. Brown, publicly have differed with past and present CDC policy statements.

Wyman noted that the mailing is in violation of state law which requires political campaign literature to bear adequate identification of its sponsors.

He viewed it as a "massive and expensive mailing" and said its implication that all Democratic candidates subscribe to pro-Communist beliefs "is a slander against all Democrats running for public office."

Wyman noted that his party has gone to court three times in the past 10 days to obtain restraining orders against anti-Democratic campaign literature.

"But this one comes much too late in the campaign to be stopped by court order or for Democratic candidates to counteract it," he said.

The Democratic chairman said although the Nixon group has denied responsibility for the mailing, "let him (Nixon) explain what an official piece of Nixon literature is doing in each and every envelope in this latest mailing."

Haldeman said he can't "repudiate something I haven't seen—but I'm not refusing to repudiate it, either."

Kennedy and Mohn were appointed by former Gov. Edmund G. Brown to fill unexpired terms which ended Friday.

First Appointees

Haldeman and Campbell, Reagan's first appointees to the UC Board of Regents, will serve full 16-year terms.

Haldeman served as an ex officio member of the board as president of the UCLA Alumni Assn. from 1965-67.

Haldeman, 41, is vice president of J. Walter Thompson & Co. and has been manager of the advertising firm's Los Angeles office since 1961. He has been with the company for 18 years in New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles and lives at 465 Muirfield Road.

Nixon Names Haldeman, L.A. Executive, to Campaign Post

MAY 19 1968

BY DON IRWIN
Times Staff Writer

NEW YORK—H. R. Haldeman, Los Angeles advertising executive and member of the University of California's Board of Regents, has been named to a top spot in Richard M. Nixon's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Haldeman, who has been associated with Nixon campaigns since 1956, will hold the title of personal chief of staff to the former Vice President. He is expected to join the Nixon entourage when the candidate visits Los Angeles May 27-28 to await the results of the Oregon primary, in which Gov. Reagan is his principal opponent.

Haldeman's selection was announced Saturday by John N. Mitchell, a Nixon law partner whose designation as manager of Nixon's preconvention campaign was officially disclosed in the announcement.

Mitchell, 53, has headed efforts to round up delegate support for Nixon in nonprimary states. The Fordham law school graduate is a recognized expert on municipal finance. In this capacity he has a nationwide political acquaintance at the grass-roots level.

1962 Campaign Manager

In his last direct political association with Nixon, Haldeman was manager of the former Vice President's unsuccessful 1962 campaign for California's governorship. In 1960, when Nixon narrowly lost the Presidency to John F. Kennedy, Haldeman's title was campaign tour manager. In 1956, when Nixon was reelected Vice President as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's running-mate, Haldeman was one of the advance men who made arrangements for the candidate's speaking dates.

Recently appointed by Gov. Reagan to a 16-year term on the University of California's Board of Regents, Haldeman is a vice president of the J. Walter Thompson Co. and has headed the advertising agency's Los Angeles office for eight years. He is also chairman of the Board of Trustees of the California Institute of Arts.

In a statement accompanying Mitchell's announcement, Nixon said Haldeman's "great administrative ability and vast fund of national political experience will add another element of strength to the outstanding campaign staff we have assembled." That staff, Nixon claimed, is "unmatched anywhere in politics."

Nixon Appears Ready to End Silence on War

THU JUL 25 1968

BY DON IRWIN
Times Staff Writer

Richard M. Nixon seems prepared to break his four-month moratorium on Vietnam comment less than a week before the Republican convention opens in Miami Beach.

R. E. Haldeman, Nixon's chief of staff, Wednesday at Newport Beach said Vietnam will be the topic of one of four papers the former Vice President will submit to the convention platform committee for consideration at its hearings in Miami Beach next week.

The other papers, Haldeman told newsmen, will deal with recommendations for platform planks on the economy, law and order and problems of the nation's cities.

One Preoccupation

Work on the platform proposals has been one of Nixon's preoccupations since his arrival Monday for a period of relaxation in a beachfront house in the Corona del Mar section of Newport Beach.

Haldeman also told newsmen that Nixon was visited Monday by Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, who directed Nixon's campaign for the Presidency in 1960 and almost certainly will play a role in this campaign if Nixon wins the GOP nomination.

Haldeman refused to speculate on the content of the promised statement on Vietnam. It seems inevitable, however, that a paper proposing party policy for use through the campaign ahead will make firm recommendations of the kind Nixon has avoided since he suspended comment April 1 on the Administration's Vietnam policy. Nixon began his moratorium a day after President Johnson announced a partial curtailment of bombing of North Vietnam.

Nixon Plans Major Shakeup in White House Staff System

NOV 14 1958

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon made it clear Wednesday he planned a major shakeup of the traditional White House staff system. And a top aide indicated the President-elect intended to be a more "activist" President than was Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Nixon announced through a spokesman the appointment of a second assistant to the President—H. R. (Bob) Haldeman, 42, a Los Angeles advertising executive, who will handle general administrative matters and Nixon's daily schedule.

Haldeman, a chief of staff for Nixon during the campaign, told newsmen there'll be only three or four jobs comparable to his, all of them "generalists" involved in general planning rather than details.

"We don't want specific people locked into specific boxes," Haldeman told a briefing session at the Hotel Pierre, where the Nixon camp was working out the details of the transition of power Jan. 20.

No Press Secretary

There won't be a press secretary or appointments secretary as such in the Nixon Administration, he said. There was speculation, for example, that Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's communications chief during the campaign, would become an assistant to the President, with Ron Ziegler, traveling press secretary in the campaign, serving as a special assistant working with the press.

Beneath the three or four assistants to the President, Haldeman said, there will be several special assistants assigned to specific areas of responsibility.

The staff will be smaller than in other recent administrations, Haldeman said, and will certainly be one of the youngest.

With this kind of organization, Haldeman indicated in anwer to questions, the President-elect will be a more activist President than Gen. Eisenhower, whom he served as Vice President.

"I think," he said, "he'll be very much in it from the beginning."

Preliminary planning for the White House staff was done during the campaign, Haldeman said, and the details are still being worked out. The first assistant named, on Tuesday, was Bryce N. Harlow, 52, a White House aide in the Eisenhower Administration.

"We've spent a lot of time on a review of the White House staff," Haldeman said. "We've talked to a number of people who held the posts in past and present administrations and we feel there are a lot of ways we can improve the White House staff structure."

Haldeman, a longtime and close political associate and friend of the President-elect, managed Nixon's unsuccessful campaign for California governor in 1962, was tour manager of Nixon's 1960 presidential campaign and was an advance man in the 1956 vice presidential campaign. 7 / — / 4 - 1

The boyish-looking Haldeman coordinated the highly organized Nixon traveling staff in the recent campaign.

Haldeman is a vice president of J. Walter Thompson Co., and for the last eight years has been manager of the company's Los Angeles office.

He was named recently by California Gov. Reagan to a 16-year term as a member of the University of California board of regents. He is chairman of the board of trustees of the California Institute of Arts, married and the father of four.

Nixon appeared Wednesday for the first time since his return Monday to New York from Key Biscayne, Fla., and Washington, when he strolled unannounced one and one half blocks down Fifth Ave. from his apartment to the hotel.

The president-elect smiled and greeted a few persons, then went to his 39th-floor headquarters, for more staff meetings.

At noon, Nixon went by motorcade to New York's financial district for lunch with members of his law firm. As he left the hotel, a burglar alarm on a parked truck nearby went off, upsetting Secret Service agents, presumably because it was attracting too much attention.

HALDEMAN CONTROLS PAPER, VISITOR FLOW

MAR 10 1969

White House Aide Plays Devil's Advocate

BY CARL GREENBERG
Times Political Writer

WASHINGTON—Behind a door not more than 15 feet away from the President sits a man of many roles. One of them is to play devil's advocate.

He is H. R. Haldeman, 42, assistant to President Nixon in charge of the operations of the White House staff.

But the title fails to convey the many functions he performs as one of Mr. Nixon's closest confidants and top aide in the White House.

Through Haldeman's hands must pass every piece of paper that reaches the President's desk. His personal approval must be given before the President receives a visitor.

He can fill in the President on the minute details of almost any given situation under discussion.

"I also play the devil's advocate," said Haldeman in an interview.

"I look for the other side to see that all alternatives are being considered."

And it is with Haldeman that the President can and does sit down during the day—or sometimes calls after midnight—to get his reactions to something of major import that the President is considering.

"Every man has to have somebody with whom he can talk something out," Haldeman explains.

That Mr. Nixon can do so with Haldeman is understandable.

The $42,500-a-year assistant was Mr. Nixon's personal chief of staff during the 1968 presidential campaign. In 1962 Haldeman was statewide manager of the ill-fated Nixon campaign for the governorship of California.

In private life, Haldeman was vice president and manager of the Los Angeles office of J. Walter Thompson Co., the world's largest advertising agency.

In his present post, Haldeman controls "people flow" into the President's office; "paper flow"; "internally generated activity"—the things that the President initiates and wants done — and two forms of memoranda that give the President a fill-in on what's going on in the world.

It is this last item that provides the President with a capsulization of virtually every topic on which he would have to be intelligently informed.

EXHIBIT L

Haldeman Plays Devil's Advocate for President

One form of memoranda is a leather-covered loose-leaf folder on which is embossed in gold leaf:

"Eyes Only for the President, The President's Daily News Briefing."

Prepared each night, the President reads it the first thing in the morning.

In the folder are summaries of the major news stories that would concern Mr. Nixon.

Information is broken down into categories such as foreign, domestic, politics, crime, the President, digests of news analyses by columnists and summaries of television commentators' analyses of events.

Times Scrutinized

The nation's major newspapers, among them the Los Angeles Times, are carefully scrutinized for the "Eyes Only" book.

Within a short span of time, the President thus is almost as fully informed as one could be who exactly personally read each newspaper and watch every television program.

Sometimes the summaries come back to Haldeman with marginal notes from the President. Why is this situation exist? What are we doing to prevent a recurrence of one tragedy in which the government may play a role? Should Rep. Blank be told certain facts dealing with a statement he has made so that his understanding of a given situation is changed?

Another form of memorandum is marked "FYI." The letters stand for "for your information." These pass on to the President things he should know but require no action.

Special Asst. Dwight Chapin works out the details of the "people flag," as Haldeman calls it.

Can Interrupt

Haldeman decides who gets in to talk to Mr. Nixon. Chapin does the implementation.

Haldeman himself is one of the exceptions who goes in to see Mr. Nixon when he deems it essential as is Ronald Ziegler, the President's press secretary, who can interrupt and get the President out in the field for a private conversation if the matter is urgent.

Ken Cole, staff secretary, handles the "paper flow" for and out of the President's office.

This means he prepares a routing slip that shows attachments from the attorney general, secretary of state and other officials who may be concerned with a document intended for the President.

H. R. Haldeman

MON MAR 10

Typically, a pending executive order showed clearances from the counselor to the President, the budget director, the attorney general and White House counsel. In separate memoranda they gave their views on the proposed order.

But no papers are placed on the President's desk by Cole or removed by him.

Runs Tight Ship

That's the job of Haldeman, who runs a tight ship that any army aide who prefer a greater degree of informal handling.

Obviously, Haldeman doesn't see that as the way to run the shop for the man who has the most powerful office in the world and who lives under pressures hard for the average layman to envision.

Haldeman said Mr. Nixon had forbidden any form of recording of conversations in his office, whether with his staff or with visitors.

"Some Presidents felt their every word should be recorded electronically," said Haldeman.

"At least they had the capability and in some cases did," he added with a smile.

Reference Unclarified

Whether he was referring to former President Lyndon B. Johnson, Haldeman didn't say.

"Mr. Nixon said he didn't want it done and I transmitted his instructions to the building department," Haldeman declared.

"He's never even had a stenographer come in to record conversations."

It already has been disclosed that Mr. Nixon ordered the clicking news wire service teletypes and television sets that Mr. Johnson had in the oval office removed.

The Johnson phone with about 30 buttons also has disappeared. In its stead is a telephone with six buttons—about as many as a big corporation executive might have.

A duplicate set sits on a coffee table so that it is available when the President has guests, and a third duplicate is in a small private office to which the President retires when he wants to do some paper work. This little office is immediately adjacent to Haldeman's businesslike office in which the only luxury item is a fireplace.

There's been another change made from past practice.

Pictures actually autographed by the President will not be as widely distributed as they have been under former Administrations.

Those who want to display a picture of the President will get one that shows his handwriting and the words "best wishes, Richard Nixon."

But on the back will be stamped:

"This is an exact reproduction of the President's signature."

Haldeman explained that autograph dealers trade such items and:

"The purpose is to protect the President's signature from any misuse or abuse. You're 'cheapening the currency' when there are 5 million autographed pictures around."

RE: ROBERT HUTCHISON FINCH

DETAILS:

An 11-7-68, news release of the Washington Capital News Service reported that President-Elect Nixon and a few of his closest advisers arrived at Key Biscayne, Florida, for relaxation and sketching outlines of his new Administration. Among those joining Mr. Nixon were Robert Finch, Lieutenant Governor of California; Robert Haldeman, Mr. Nixon's Chief of Staff; and Bryce Harlow, a key adviser and one-time special counsel to former President Eisenhower. Our files were reviewed concerning these three individuals and they reveal the following information concerning them.

ROBERT HUTCHISON FINCH:

The results of a file review concerning Mr. Finch were furnished in my memorandum to you dated 9-30-68, copy attached, in response to a request from Mr. Tolson. That review revealed generally favorable information concerning Finch. However, it was noted that in 1967, Mr. Finch interceded in preventing the revocation of a liquor license to a nightclub catering to homosexuals.

HARRY ROBBINS HALDEMAN: - Summary

Mr. Harry Robbins Haldeman, who is also known as Robert Haldeman and Bob Haldeman, and who was born on 10-27-26, at Los Angeles, California, was the subject of an applicant-type investigation conducted by us in 1965. This investigation was favorable and revealed the following information concerning him. Haldeman graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles with a B. S. degree in 1948. He was employed with the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Company, with offices in New York and California, from 1949 up to the time of the investigation in 1965. However, he took a leave of absence in 1960 and 1962 to assist Mr. Nixon in his election campaigns. Mr. Haldeman served in the U. S. Navy as an enlisted man from July, 1944, to June, 1946, at which time he was honorably discharged. Individuals contacted during the course of this applicant-type investigation highly recommended Mr. Haldeman for a position of trust and confidence with the U. S. Government.

Our files do not reveal that Mr. Haldeman has previously met the Director. No arrest record was located in the files of our Identification Division on Mr. Haldeman.

M. A. Jones to Bishop Memo
RE: ROBERT HUTCHISON FINCH

BRYCE N. HARLOW:

We conducted a Special Inquiry investigation concerning Mr. Harlow in January, 1953, in connection with his appointment as Administrative Assistant on the White House Staff during President Eisenhower's Administration. This inquiry was favorable and revealed that Mr. Harlow was born on 8-11-16 at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. He received a B. A. degree from the University of Oklahoma in 1936, and an M. A. degree from the same school in 1940. He entered the U. S. Army in 1941 as a Second Lieutenant and was honorably discharged as a Lieutenant Colonel in 1946.

Mr. Harlow was employed as a clerk in the office of then Congressman Wesley E. Disney from 1938 until 1941, when he resigned to enter the Army. In 1946, he was employed as a member of the Professional Staff, Armed Services Committee, U. S. House of Representatives. He terminated this employment in 1951, to work with his father in the Harlow Publishing Company at Oklahoma City. He was appointed Special Administrative Assistant for the White House in 1953, and served in this capacity and as a Deputy Assistant to the President until 1961. We have had limited but friendly business-type contact with Mr. Harlow, mostly during the period he was employed at the White House.

Our files do not indicate that Mr. Harlow has previously met Mr. Hoover However, in October, 1959, Victor Emanuel wrote the Director in which he enclosed a letter he had written to Mr. Harlow and in which he highly praised Mr. Harlow's efforts while assigned to the White House. Our files also reveal that Mr. Harlow was interviewed during the Walter Jenkins investigation at which time he advised that he knew Mr. Jenkins very well and had had a number of business-type contacts with him.

O.C. Executives Decide to Go for the Rubles

By DAVID OLMOS,
Times Staff Writer

At a gift shop in the Ukraine Hotel in Moscow, foreign guests browsing for goodies to take home can choose from paperback book best-sellers from the United States, perfumes from France and official icons from the Russian Orthodox Church.

They can also find bumper stickers that say "Don't Worry!" in Russian and silk-screened "Gorby" T-shirts. The T-shirts, of course, pay tribute to Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev, whose sweeping program of social and economic reforms have made all this possible.

Let it be said, however, that it took a fourth-generation Russian-American named Martin Lopata, a Huntington Beach businessman, to bring "Bonfire of the Vanities," $20 T-shirts and $1,000 religious icons together in one place.

In a joint venture with several Soviet government and private organizations, Lopata recently opened several hotel gift shops in Moscow and Leningrad designed specifically for Western visitors. He is among a growing number of Orange County companies and private business people who are pioneers of sorts in the new Soviet economy. They are coming with ambitious, sometimes unrealistic, dreams of cashing in on improved trade relations between the United States and the Soviet Union in the age of glasnost and perestroika.

Some examples:

VENTURES: O.C. Executives Try to Cash In on Soviet Opportunities

trying to sell the Soviets a unique, needle-less hypodermic syringe for use in hospitals and medical clinics. The Soviets contacted Injet after AIDS outbreaks in Elista and Volgograd in southern Russia were traced earlier this year to contaminated needles used during hospital treatment. At least 81 children in the cities have been infected with the virus, and some have passed it on to their mothers.

• A group of Newport Beach investors has hired former Watergate figure H.R. (Bob) Haldeman to help sell the Soviets on the idea of putting up high-tech executive office complexes for foreign companies.

• Besides the hotel gift shops, Lopata's joint venture has also opened one of the first photocopying and printing shops in Moscow. The venture, called Sovaminco, aims at opening additional shops, which will cater to Western businesses rather than Soviet citizens, in Leningrad and several other Soviet cities. The company also reached a deal with USA Today to distribute the newspaper in Moscow and Leningrad on the same day of publication—the first time the paper has been available in the Soviet Union.

These and other Orange County companies have joined in a surge of U.S.-Soviet business partnerships made possible by Gorbachev's reforms, intended to modernize the Soviet economy and bring new openness to the nation's political system.

In January, 1987, Gorbachev changed the law to allow Soviet enterprises to form joint ventures with foreign companies. Since the law was enacted, more than 500 U.S. joint ventures have been registered, only a handful have actually been licensed.

The reason for all the interest among American business is simple: The Soviet Union is the world's second-largest economy after the United States, with a population of more than 280 million people who have hoarded a vast supply of rubles but have had little to spend them on. Because so many consumer goods are scarce or unavailable, Soviet citizens have just been waiting for something to buy with all those rubles.

"For the first time since the Russian Revolution, you have private enterprises being allowed in the Soviet Union," said Michael J. Bayzler, a Russian-born Whittier College law professor and specialist in East-West trade.

Although none of the local companies' projects involve products or services intended to tap the Soviet Union's huge consumer market, other U.S. firms are getting ready to do so. For example, McDonald's Corp. plans to open two restaurants in 1989 and more than a dozen later on.

So far, profits have been elusive for the companies doing business in the Soviet Union. Of the 60 or so U.S.-Soviet joint ventures now up and running, few, if any, are making money, trade experts say.

Still, companies in Orange County and elsewhere tend to stress the long view. They say investments made now will reap future rewards.

"The companies that are going to share in the Soviet market are the ones that go through the proper steps now," said Wesley F. Nelson, vice president of international sales for AST Research Inc., an Irvine computer company.

"In 10 years, we think there has to be quite a market for desktop computers" in the Soviet Union, said Nelson, who visited Moscow earlier this year to begin establishing some ties between AST and Soviet organizations. "The potential there is large enough for a company like AST to spend time and resources cultivating the market."

But doing business in the Soviet Union is easier said then done.

Everyday tasks—making a telephone call, having a business letter typed or translated, or sending a fax back to the home office—can be a headache.

"If your business plan says something will take six months, then figure on doubling it," Lopata advised.

Lopata, whose great-grandfather ran a bakery near Kiev before immigrating to New York, was attending a joint U.S.-Soviet citizens' summit in Alexandria, Va., last year when an official of the Soviet State Committee for Publishing, Printing and Book Trade (Goskomizdat) contacted him about setting up an offset-printing business in the Soviet Union.

The Soviets proposed a joint venture, and last September Lopata's printing and copying venture, called Soviet American International Co., or Sovaminco, was announced with some fanfare at a press conference at the Soviet Consulate in San Francisco.

Sovaminco's first printing shop opened last month in Moscow and is now churning out T-shirts, business cards and bumper stickers. The shop has an offset press, a silk-screen printing press, high-speed copiers and other publishing equipment.

Setting up shop in the Soviet Union is no breeze, as Lopata found out. His original Soviet partners told him that they had found a site for the printing plant in a Moscow office building, but they really hadn't. Lopata, who speaks only a few Russian phrases, was forced to look for a new partner and a new site.

Sovaminco's project faced further delays when $1 million worth of office equipment shipped from the United States was left sitting in a Leningrad railyard for two months before being forwarded to Moscow. Once the equipment was in place, it took another two months to get the building wired for electricity.

The print shop finally opened in early July—seven months behind schedule.

"This has been way beyond anything I ever imagined in terms of how long it has taken to get started," Lopata said. "The [Soviet] system is that slow."

Undeterred, Lopata, 50, is rushing ahead with all kinds of other plans for businesses and services designed primarily for the Western business person or tourist.

He talks excitedly about opening Western-style restaurants and bars, movie theaters, a sightseeing tour bus service, a hotel video movie rental business—the list goes on and on.

Where does he get all his ideas? "We just look around and ask ourselves, 'What would a tourist want?' " he said.

Richard Danson has never traveled to the Soviet Union and, until recently, had never given much thought to doing business there. Today, he is preparing for his first trip to Moscow and spending much of his time figuring how to break

Please see VENTURES, Page 12

VENTURES: Some O.C. Firms Go for the Rubles into the Soviet market.

Danson is president of Injet Medical Devices Inc., which developed a patented needle-less hypodermic injection device that the company has been trying to sell to the U.S. pharmaceutical industry.

Among its potential medical uses, the device can help solve a prickly medical problem: health-care workers who become infected with diseases or viruses because of accidental sticks with contaminated hypodermic needles.

The Soviets contacted Injet after the company's investment banker, who ran a small U.S.-Soviet export business, told a Russian banker friend of his about the product. Last March, officials with the Soviet's Ministry of Health and Ministry of Instrumentation traveled to Southern California to take a first-hand look at Injet's product.

Injet executives arranged a meeting in a Hollywood film studio where they demonstrated the injector by shooting green dye into a turkey breast. Apparently, the Soviets liked what they saw.

"They seem extraordinarily interested," Danson said. "They have a significant problem over there with contaminated needles. That problem won't go away with conventional, disposable needles.

"We had really been looking at the U.S. market. Then this Soviet thing just came out of the blue."

But Injet faces some hurdles before it can take advantage of the Soviet opportunity. The company has no manufacturing plant to produce the injectors and no money to build one. Even if the Soviets placed a big order for the injectors immediately, Injet couldn't fill it.

"We are a small company, and this is an enormous project," Danson said, adding that Injet is seeking private investment to start production of the injectors.

The Soviets want Injet to show them how to manufacture the needle-less injectors so they can set up their own manufacturing plant. They also want the rights to market the product in the Soviet Union and the East Bloc. In return, Injet would receive royalties of 5% for each injector sold.

When a Newport Beach investment group was trying to sell the Soviets on the idea of building plush, high-tech office buildings for foreign companies, it turned to a familiar face from the past: Bob Haldeman, the former top-level Nixon Administration aide.

"He [Haldeman] has a certain amount of expertise in the hotel business," Newport Beach investor Bernard Rome said. "He had a lot of varied experience that can be drawn upon."

Haldeman heads Americom International Corp.'s advisory committee. Rome is Americom's founder and chairman.

The Irvine firm was formed to bring the idea of "intelligent" office buildings to the Soviet Union. The buildings would be outfitted with advanced technologies such as video teleconferencing and satellite hookups with the West. All this in a country where fax machines and push-button phones are still viewed with awe.

"I've been doing business in the Soviet Union for 15 years," Rome said. "One of the major things that has always been lacking are support services."

Rome said it is difficult for American business people to find office space to lease in the Soviet Union, so they often must work out of hotel rooms. But hotels lack ordinary business services, such as copying or fax machines, that Western business travelers take for granted.

Most Soviet hotels also lack direct-dial, long-distance phone service. Overseas phone calls have to be placed through an operator, a process that can take hours at peak calling periods.

Americom's complexes would also have pooled services—receptionists, copying machines and word processors—that would be shared by the tenants, who would lease space for periods ranging from one day to several years.

"You'd have access to an English-speaking secretary and could get your phones answered and messages forwarded," Rome said. "You wouldn't have to spend 75% of your time worrying about how to get things done."

Rome said Soviet officials seem quite interested in the project, but he admits to growing impatient with the lengthy process. He will head for Moscow later this month to try to speed things up and still hopes to have the first office opened by early 1990.

al hundred copies will be available in Moscow and Leningrad, primarily in hotels. Cost: $2 an issue, or 2 rubles.

"The time is now right for the U.S.S.R.," says David Mazzarella, president of USA TODAY International, because restrictions on the foreign press have been eased. The edition (circulation: about 50,000) is sold in more than 80 nations.

In other news: USA TODAY's domestic edition is expanding its regional advertising plan to include alcoholic beverage and tobacco ads. The newspaper (1,666,241 circulation Monday-Thursday; 2,020,398 Friday) already accepts regional ads from automobile dealers and distributors, financial and business services, retailers, telecommunications companies and travel services. The change is a direct response "to the expressed wants and needs of our current and prospective advertisers," says Patricia Haegele, USA TODAY's senior vice president/advertising.

USSR Today?: Sovaminco, a joint US-Soviet venture, will begin distributing about 200 copies of USA Today's international edition in the Soviet Union within a month, the newspaper's publisher said Thursday. Publisher Gannett Co. said the move is primarily meant to appeal to American tourists, temporary residents and business officials. The papers will sell for either $2 or 2 rubles.

Kissinger hired: Expanding its star-studded director's list, Revlon Group Inc. said Thursday it would add former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to its board of directors.

In addition, while LA recognizes both subject's prior conviction, and the sensitive political issues surrounding an interview of HALDEMAN, the following considerations are offered:

HALDEMAN chose to serve the United States in the most complete way possible, that is, to act as Chief of Staff to the NIXON Presidency. For further information of Los Angeles, as referenced in the 9/13/89 airtel, the US/USSR Trade Council is located at 805 Third Avenue, New York, New York. It was started in the early to mid 1970s as a result of President Nixon and Soviet leader BREZHNEV's dialogue to promote trade between the two countries. The council is a private entity, and several hundred US companies are members. Membership dues are based on annual sales volume of member companies, and the complete list of membership is kept secret. The trade council does not conduct any active trade in commodities whereas AMTORG TRADING COMPANY is a real trading organization. The council concentrates on attempting to maintain a climate of good will and a climate of development in order to introduce American companies into joint ventures with the USSR. The trade council will act as a "go-between an will introduce American firms to Soviet counterparts for future discussions. [redacted]

The AMERICOM INTERNATIONAL CORPORATION (AIC), Jamboree Center, One Park Plaza, Irvine, California, is a penny stock company operated by the above subject. At present, AIC is attempting to construct an executive office building in Moscow. Western businessmen would then be able to rent high tech office space; i.e., sophisticated communication technology, in the USSR. Negotiations are presently in progress with the Soviets and AIC regarding the installation of these high-tech communication systems on Soviet soil. This type of complex would be known as a "smart building" because of the communication capabilities.

AIC's relationship to SYNTELESIS is that domestically the high-tech rent-a-space for businessmen is a SYNTELESIS concept. The services and the space are all part of the rented package. At present, SYNTELESIS has fallen on some hard times and they are involved in a "chapter proceeding."

In regard to the HEADQUARTER COMPANY, this group markets a telecommunications system known as the "HQ Concept". This company would provide the state-of-the-art communications technology for the aforementioned rented space.

Presently, AIC is involved with INTOURIST (the Soviet representative) and the RADISSON HOTELS in a three-way deal. This group is now attempting to proceed with the construction of the "smart building" previously described.

Irvine firm, Radisson to build hotel in USR

By Judith I. Brennan
The Register 14 FEB 90

IRVINE — Americom International, a development company partly owned by H.R. Haldeman, will build a hotel and business center in Moscow under a joint venture with Radisson Hotels International and the Soviet government.

The $150 million Radisson Slavjanskya Hotel and Business Center, a venture with the Soviet tourism arm Concern Intourist, will be the first American hotel in the Soviet Union.

The complex, called the American Trade Center in Moscow, is expected to open in the late summer or early fall pending approval of the Soviet Ministry of Finance.

Haldeman, who owns 7 percent of Americom, was White House chief of staff under President Nixon and served 18 months in prison for his role in the Watergate scandal.

Americom, an 11-month-old Irvine-based international developer, became involved in the project last April after Haldeman and company President Paul Tatum met with Soviet officials about the need for western-style offices for foreign businesses in the Soviet Union.

Americom later hooked up with Minneapolis, Minn.-based Radisson, and the result was the proposed 430-room hotel and 165-business suite office complex.

an expert on the Soviet Union, said the Radisson venture "is primarily significant in that it would be the first major US entry into the hotel and tourist business inside the Soviet Union."

The only other western hotel in Moscow is the Savoy, an 83-room hotel managed by Finnair.

"Their hotel is nothing like the one proposed under our joint venture," Tatum said. "The Savoy has one restaurant, one bar and no conference rooms.

"This project will have a conference center, 430 rooms, five or six bars and four restaurants," possibly including a TGI Friday's, said Tatum. It also will have a health club, swimming pool and stores in addition to the 165 business suites.

Under the joint venture, called RadAmer, Tatum said Radisson will run the hotel, where rooms will go for $200 a night.

Americom will furnish the business suites with modern office equipment and services, including computers, laser printers, video conferencing, clerical support staff and an answering service. The suites will lease for $82,000 a year, Tatum said.

"Right now, its tough to get a decent phone line from the Soviet Union," said Tatum. "We will have our own satellite channel."

Unfurnished office space will rent for $120 a square foot per year.

Tatum said Americom expects the facility will produce up to $90 million in hard-currency revenue for the joint venture by the end of its second year.

A 7-member directorate will operate the center, headed by an American appointed by RadAmer. Hotel and business center managers also will be Americans appointed by RadAmer, Tatum said.

"There really is nothing like this, and we don't really see any chance of this falling through," said Tatum.
